2013 Conference Treating the Tough Adolescent

Dr. Scott P. Sells

Dr. Sells holds doctorate degrees in both Social Work and Family Therapy from Florida State University and a Master's degree in Social Work. He has previously served as a Full Professor at Savannah State University, teaching masters students in advanced clinical practice.

Dr. Sells also serves as a consultant for the Department of Juvenile Justice, and as the CEO of Parenting with Love and Limits[®]. Dr. Sells is receiving widespread media coverage for his work with an inner-city neighborhood, establishing a community center clinic that will treat at-risk children using the principles from his books.
