How to Request an Idaho Child Protection Registry Check:

Idaho's Child Protection Central Registry is mandated by the Child Protection Law. The Idaho Child Protection Central Registry is a list of individuals for whom abuse, abandonment, or neglect of a child has been substantiated by Child Protection Services in Idaho.

Who needs a Child Protection Registry Check?

- A Child Protection Registry Check could be required for many reasons such as foster care licensure, adoption, day care licensure, and certain types of employment.

How can I request a Child Protection Registry Check from the State of Idaho?

- Requests must be submitted on a completed and notarized Idaho Health & Welfare form. The form can be found in this website: <https://chu.dhw.idaho.gov>

- Requests must include payment. The fee for a Child Protection Registry Check is $20.00 per request. Payment must be made at the time of request with a check or money order unless the agency has been previously set up for Invoicing. Invoicing is available to agencies that have a minimum of 10 registry checks per calendar year.
